Visakhapatnam is the country's largest city in terms of land and Andhra Pradesh's second largest urban agglomeration in population. On account of rapid industrialization, there has been significant migration into the city. The city was originally a small fishing village but due to its natural harbour it developed into a major port. With the formation Greater Visakhapatnam in 2005, the city development is set for a quantum leap. The city of Visakhapatnam has implemented a number of reforms including e-governance and citizen-friendly initiatives. Visakhapatnam has been the first city in the country to implement e-governance and still leads in offering a variety of services to its residents online. The Corporation is working closely with planning and service delivery institutions in the city for improving the quality of life.
